Two Full Slates in Pontoon Election

Incumbent Mayor, Clerk Heading Tickets for Five Village Offices

An election battle for offices of mayor (president), city clerk and three village trustee posts developed in Pontoon Beach today as the deadline for filing nominating petitions in April 18 city and village elections drew near. Today is the last day for filing.

The competition developed with announcement by Thomas Staloff, incumbent mayor, that he will file as a mayor candidate against Edison J. Phelps, now village clerk. Phelps filed earlier, along with a complete ticket including a candidate for clerk and three trustee candidates.

Staloff said he and members of his ticket seeking the same offices will file late today.

In Venice, a complete ticket of aldermanic candidates backed by the city organization, filed petitions Saturday with City Clerk William "Mike" Eversold. Venice will elect four aldermen to four-year terms and one alderman to a two-year unexpired term.

Only one opposition candidate, who filed a month ago, John Mangiaracino, 1004 Third street, has filed thus far to oppose the city hall ticket, which filed as the Citizens' Progressive Party.

Madison Still Quiet

City Comptroller E. J. Miller said there were no additional filings during the week in Madison. The city hall slate of five aldermanic candidates and one independent candidate filed previously.

Miller said he will accept candidates' petitions until 4:30 p.m. today, regular closing hour of his office in the Madison city hall. The city clerk's office at Venice will accept filings until 5 p.m. today.

Phelps' ticket in Pontoon Beach will include Phelps as candidate for mayor, Floyd Ashby as candidate for city clerk and Harold McBride, Clyde Bradshaw and Gerald Warren as candidates for trustees. McBride formerly was a trustee, being defeated in a bid for re-election in 1965.

Staloff said candidates on his slate, in addition to himself, will include Mrs. Nancy Reales for clerk, and Russell Bennett, Tony Jackson and Dr. Dean Rochester for trustees. Jackson is an incumbent trustee.

The other two incumbents whose terms expire this year, Lawrence T. Enser and Robert A. Springer, do not plan to seek re-election. It was said. Petitions of candidacy must be filed with Phelps, who is now village clerk. He said he will accept nominating petitions "until a reasonable hour after 4 p.m. today."

Venice Candidates

Candidates who filed in Venice with city hall backing include Lloyd H. Patterson, George W. Trocadero, 1310 Erie street, Second Ward; Louis B. Ruffin, 507 Mendocino street, Third Ward.

Icy Pavements Cause 12 Crashes, 9 Injuries Here

A total of 12 auto accidents was reported in the Granite City area during last night's freezing rain, the latest which took up city streets, Madison and Venice had no mishaps.

A number of "fender benders" occurred on area highways, and auto slid off the pavement into ditches, but there was only one highway injury accident in which hospital treatment was required, according to state police headquarters.

Only two of the accidents in the area resulted in injuries, including one in which six persons were hurt in a Granite City mishap.

As hazardous conditions developed, city street departments were called.

Street Crews Called

William Warfield, Granite City superintendent of streets who was notified at 8 p.m., reported that three city trucks and crews were placed on duty at 8:30 p.m. to spread salt and sand at intersections until midnight when the ice began to break up.

Madison street crews were called out in full force at 8:30 p.m. to spread salt and cinders. As the ice threat began diminishing, with street clearing operations by the city organization, filed petitions Saturday with City Clerk William "Mike" Eversold. Venice will elect four aldermen to four-year terms and one alderman to a two-year unexpired term.

Only one opposition candidate, who filed a month ago, John Mangiaracino, 1004 Third street, has filed thus far to oppose the city hall ticket, which filed as the Citizens' Progressive Party.

Arrest of 3 Boys in Venice Solves Series of Thefts

The arrest in Venice yesterday of three youths, two of which the boys entered, officers there, will solve a number of burglaries and thefts in Venice, West Madison and Madison, Venice authorities said early today.

A fourth youth, about 21, who formerly lived in Venice but now lives in St. Louis, is being sought, police said. The boys held by police today are 13, 16 and 19 years old.

Preliminary questioning immediately following their arrest will result in a solution of the series of burglaries and thefts in the Madison area, a week ago, burglary of the cafeteria of the Johns-Manville plant in Venice on Feb. 11, and the burglary several months ago of the office of the Fox Bros. Co. in North Venice, authorities noted.

Plan More Questioning

In addition, several house burglaries in Venice, Madison and West Madison are expected to be solved. Further questioning will be authorities said.

Armed Man Gets $130; Burglary Loot $1000

Hubcaps, Cameras, Tires Stolen over Weekend

In Other Area Thefts

An armed robbery in which a lone bandit obtained $130 from a truck driver and a house burglary in which loot worth $1000 was taken were among 14 Quad-City area thefts reported to authorities during the weekend.

Ralph Kimball, 2046 Lee avenue, a delivery man for the Florio-Kist Co., was robbed of $130 when a bandit entered his truck and pulled a .22 or .25-caliber revolver on him at 5:50 p.m. Friday.

He had just made a delivery at Ramsay's market, 25th and Benton streets.

Kimball said the man first told him that he had a low tire on the left side of the truck, and then opened the door, drew the gun, coked it and asked for money.

After taking the money from a wallet chained to Kimball's belt, the bandit ordered him to leave.

Kimball described the man as about 45 years old with a long face, leather cap and wearing glasses. He was about five feet, 10 or 11 inches tall and weighed about 145 pounds. Kimball said the bandit appeared to be a steelworker.

It was the second time he has been accosted recently. Two weeks earlier, while he was in St. Louis, he was jumped by five men and was beaten but was able to get away.

$1000 House Burglary

Items valued at more than $1000, including a diamond ring, two gold watches and a movie camera, were stolen from the home of Owen Davis, 2016 Pontoon Beach, last night Saturday, and 9:30 p.m. yesterday.

Davis told police the thieves gained entry through a screened porch, broke a window and entered the kitchen.

Listed as missing were a $400 diamond engagement ring, $170 movie camera, a woman's gold watch worth $50, a man's $150 gold watch, two suit coats valued at $75, one black suit worth $70, a $60 brown sports coat, $20 in silver dollars and half-dollars, $5 in pennies, one electric knife, one white gold wedding band, and four filled trading stamp books.

$106 Camera Loot

A $12 camera case containing camera worth $99 and $20 and film and bulbs valued at $20 were stolen from the home of Mrs. George Matthews, 2800 Madison, Ill., in the 2200 block of Spectacular Blaze at 2:45 a.m. Saturday Destroyed a Vacant Two-Family Dwelling at 1827 Grand Avenue and Routed Four Families from a Building at 1829-31 Grand Avenue. The picture was taken by Ron Snelson, 1822 Grand.

Early Morning Blaze Routs 22 At 4-Family Flat

Four families of 22 persons who were routed from a four-family flat at 1829-31 Grand avenue in near-zero temperatures at 2:45 a.m. Saturday escaped unharmed due to the quick action by Granite City police.

Patrolling officers saw the flames in a vacant frame house at 1827 Grand and rushed next door to alert the families. The frame house burned to the ground, while the occupied four-family brick flat was gutted.

Fleeing in nightclothes and barefeet, were 15 children and seven adults. The families currently are being aided by the Tri-City Chapter, American Red Cross, while the families are in contact with the families.

The officers are Alan Lemaster and Albert Young, who first spotted a flaming vacant house next door.

Lemaster said several of the occupants had already fled the building as one woman was awakened, "but one boy of about 12 or 13 was sound asleep in an upstairs bedroom." He said a younger boy also was in a second floor apartment.

"We went through all of the apartments to make sure everyone was out of there," he added. The patrolmen, spotting the fire from a couple of blocks away, notified the fire department and police station.

Twenty-two persons in the building, and four families were routed. Mrs. W. E. Born, owner of the four-family flat where the families lost all possessions, told the Press-Record on Monday that all of the youngsters are well behaved and that anyone who attempts to rent will find them obedient and well-mannered.

Power Firm to Drop Charge for Underground Lines

Illinois Power Co. has filed a rule change with the Illinois Commerce Commission doing away with a $97 charge for underground service lines in houses in subdivisions which have underground distribution, Carl E. Lemaster, manager here, announced during the weekend.

The original free underground distribution plan for new subdivisions was announced by Illinois Power a year ago, on Jan. 18, 1966, as part of a $38 million dollar modernization and streamlining of facilities.

Under that rule change (Rider "Q"), subdivisions of eight or more lots were entitled to free

Streeper Upods At-Large Ruling; Appeal Pending

Text of Order Issued by Judge

The text of Judge Streeper's order issued today denying the motion to vacate the at-large April 4 election for Granite City follows:

ORDER OF COURT

This matter now comes before the court on the motion of respondents to vacate, or in the alternative vacate portions of the order of the court entered Feb. 9, and the petition of the intervenors heretofore filed and the reply thereto by the relator.

The present ordinance restricting the city of Granite City into eight wards contravenes Chapter 24, Section 3-4.7 of the Illinois Revised Statutes, 1965, Bar Association Edition, wherein the number of aldermen to be elected in cities is based upon the number of wards—said city electing two aldermen from each ward.

The statutory section above set forth provides as follows: "In cities not exceeding 3000 inhabitants, aldermen; exceeding 3000 but not exceeding 15,000, 8 aldermen; exceeding 15,000 but not exceeding 20,000, 10 aldermen; exceeding 20,000 but not exceeding 30,000, 12 aldermen; and 2 additional aldermen for every 20,000 inhabitants over 30,000."

The number of wards in the respondent city exceeds the number of wards for a city of the size of the respondent, Granite City, and therefore the restricting of said city on Jan. 23, 1967, was without authority of law and unconstitutional since the City Council has the power and authority granted to said aldermanic bodies by the Illinois Legislature to divide the city into wards and to the law and Constitution of Illinois.

4-Ward Redistricting

The city of Granite City, respondent, by and through its elected aldermen, has neglected and refused to redistrict said city into seven wards, as by law required. Therefore said ordinance as passed on Jan. 23, 1967, was illegal, void and unconstitutional.

Respondent for respondent argued that the One Man-One Vote rule does not apply to cities even though the evidence established that one ward in said city and approximately 20,000 to 25,000 inhabitants and the remaining approximately 20,000 inhabitants of the respondent city, respondent, reside in seven wards.

Chapter 24 Section 3-4.7 of the Illinois Revised Statutes provides that every city shall have at least one ward and that the number of wards shall be as many as the total number of aldermen to which the city is entitled. The city council, respondent, has neglected and refused to redistrict said city into seven wards as required by law, but persistently created eight wards in said city instead of seven wards, which the city is legally entitled to have and the ordinance creating more than seven wards is contrary to law.

Mandamus Order Could Go to State High Court For Ultimate Decision

Judge F. H. Streeper III stood firm today on his order of Feb. 9 for an at-large election of seven aldermen in Granite City's April 4 vote, and also today, appeals are being taken to appeal the 5-Civil Service Commission's ruling at Mt. Vernon.

The associate circuit judge, who heard 2 1/2 hours of arguments Friday on a motion to vacate the at-large election order, issued his decision this morning at Edwardsville. He flatly denied the motion.

At one time during Friday's hearing, Judge Streeper noted that the city had been with its power when the mandamus hearing was conducted early this month to rule for an immediate redistricting of the city into eight wards, but he settled for a Dec. 31, 1968 redistricting deadline, provided only seven aldermen are elected from each ward.

Today's order by Judge Streeper paves the way for the city's case to go all the way to the Supreme Court, should the Appellate Court uphold the Madison County circuit court or if there is a reversal and the proponents of an at-large election want to go further. The appeal was ordered by the city council last week.

When advised of the judges' decision this morning, Mayor Patrick noted the council's redistricting committee had prepared a remap with seven wards. "So the council refused to accept it, so the statute was violated," he said. He added that the motion to appeal, approved by the council, would be filed with the city attorney to file with the appellate court "at the earliest possible date."

Vote Jan. 23 Redistricting

In denying the motion to vacate, Judge Streeper said the ordinance violated its authority. He said the city council passed Jan. 23 redistricting the city into eight wards. "Is it void and unconstitutional?" since the city's population calls only for seven wards.

Further substantiating the ruling, Judge Streeper said in his opinion that "Mandamus is a writ of right, and the granting or refusal of the writ is a matter resting within the discretion of the court."

Increase in Industrial Expansions During 1966

Industrial building activity in the territory served by Illinois Power Co. increased markedly in 1966 compared to 1965, the utility reported today.

Fifteen companies moved into the 15,000 square mile area served by the utility and 37 companies expanded existing production facilities during the year.

In 1965, fourteen companies established plants in the area served by the utility and 26 undertook expansion projects.

St. Louis County Drafting Strict Clean Air Bill

Supervisor Lawrence K. Ross of St. Louis county suggested to the county council Thursday night that it adopt a resolution urging Missouri Gov. Warren E. Hearnes and the Missouri Air Conservation Commission to try to achieve uniform air pollution control standards with the state of Illinois.

Ross' request came after the county council was instructed by the council to draft an air pollution control bill meeting standards set by the Missouri commission a few days earlier. The Missouri law is based primarily on terms of the Interstate Air Pollution Study which attracted extensive objections from Illinois and Missouri based industries.

Ross said he did not believe the St. Louis area could have clean air until Illinois adopted regulations equally as stringent as those adopted by the Missouri commission, by St. Louis and by St. Louis county.

Will Not Go Along
Illinois, however, has indicated it will not go along with some of the regulations approved by Missouri. These differences include the sulfur content limit on coal burned by industries, maximum sulfur dioxide emissions standards for industries, abatement requirements for reducing particulate matter emissions, and use of an "equivalent capacity" chart for enforcement purposes.

The Missouri regulations limit the sulfur content of coal to 2 1/2%, resulting in objection by Illinois industries that a sufficient supply of such low-sulfur coal is unavailable. Illinois has appeared favorable to a figure of around 3.4 to 3.6% sulfur content on coal, since anything much under that would deal a severe blow to the Illinois coal industry itself as well as place a hardship upon industry in obtaining coal supplies.

Illinois and Missouri representatives have been attempting to work out terms of an interstate compact to establish uniform regulations for control of air pollution, but thus far such negotiations appear to be bogged down in differences over fundamentals of the control machinery.

Want U. S. Vote
Missouri favors placing more weight on the control commission that would be set up under such a compact, than does Illinois. Illinois opposes giving a federal representative on the commission a vote, except in case of a tie, while Missouri has favored a federal representative as a voting member of the control commission.

Newville Mayor A. J. Carvantes of St. Louis said that a bill now being drafted by the Public Safety Committee of the St. Louis Board of Aldermen, for passage by the city of St. Louis, will be one of the most stringent air pollution control measures in the nation.

Ross Files Suit Over St. Margaret Mary's Project

The Henry Ross Construction Co. has filed suit in circuit court for $25,000 actual and $50,000 punitive damages against the Spec Co. division of Laidue Building & Engineering Corp., the architectural firm of Plummer, Tucker and Conrad, and Most Rev. William A. O'Connor, bishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of Springfield.

Ross was the general contractor in the new St. Margaret Mary's parish building program. He alleges that defective workmanship by Spec, as a sub-contractor, and defective materials, plans and specifications caused a roof to collapse partially and sag in several places in one of the buildings, creating a safety hazard in any attempted use of the building.

The complaint said the Spec Co. was advised of the defective condition of the roof but failed and refused to remedy it.

Additional Cost The complaint said Ross had to employ another sub-contractor on a low bid basis and was required to furnish additional materials and labor and bear additional expenses to carry out the contract at a total cost of $18,187.

On Sept. 3, 1966, Spec served a contractor's 60-day notice of lien on the bishop, alleging that he was owed and owing the firm the sum of $10,699, according to the complaint.

But by reason of defective performance and the service of the 60-day notice, the diocese refused to pay the amount due for construction of the roof.

Reputation Cited Ross claims that his reputation for building was seriously damaged not only within the parish but throughout the community.

The complaint further alleges that the architects designed plans and specifications so that only one type of material could be used on the roof with full knowledge that the Spec Co. had an exclusive franchise for it in the area, all of which was said to be known and agreed to by the bishop.

Ross seeks an order requiring the diocese to pay $18,000 due for the roof work and a stipulation that no funds are owed to the Spec Co. by Ross.

Optimist Club Hears Plane Designer-Engineer

Production of the Phantom II, the P-4 jet aircraft in wide use by the U. S. Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force, is being emphasized at present by the McDonnell Corp., Granite City Optimists were told Thursday by Vernon Johnston, a designer-engineer for the St. Louis firm.

Johnston, who addressed the men's service club's luncheon meeting in the YMCA, was introduced by a friend, Dr. Robert Bernhardt, a Granite City dentist.

Present uses of the Phantom II jet by the military services were vividly portrayed in a film. The speaker said his firm is manufacturing the aircraft at a rate of three planes per day. It has proved useful in many circumstances and is not expected to be rated as obsolete for another 10 to 15 years.

Johnston also traced the history of the fast-growing McDonnell firm from its inception in 1939 through its first Air Force contract in 1941 to develop experimental two-engine bombers, to its present space and advanced aircraft projects and merger plans with Douglas Aircraft Corp.

Legislature Studying School Aid Boost

Republican leaders of the Illinois General Assembly are preparing to support legislation that will increase state aid to elementary and secondary education from the present $330 to $400 per pupil annually, it was reported today as the legislature also took up the issue of aid to cities and counties.

The proposed $70 per pupil increase in school state aid would boost the state's total expenditure to $681 million during the 1967-68 biennium. This is $123 million higher than the state aid cost at the present $330 level.

The increase would be financed almost solely by state funds and would require virtually no taxes by the district, Ray Page, Illinois superintendent of instruction, said.

State Sen. W. Russell Arrington, (R) Evanston, said the $400 figure is believed to be the minimum aid that should be allowed elementary, junior and senior high schools in order to provide quality education.

Aids Earlier Payments
Page also called for payments that would begin in July, at the beginning of the schools' fiscal year, rather than waiting until January. He said this would allow state aid payments six months late as far as school administrations are concerned, and is responsible in part for financial problems of many school districts.

Under the Republican proposals, qualifying tax rates of school districts would be increased. The qualifying rate of dual districts would be raised from the present 74 cents to 84 cents. In unit districts the qualifying rate would be raised to $1 per $100 assessed valuation from the present 90-cent requirement.

Page explained this would make little difference because there are few districts in the state with rates of less than $1 at the present time.

Beef Producers Clinic:
Madison county and other area beef producers were brought up to date on beef production practices at a recent area beef clinic at National Stockyards.

The dry lot cattle feeding system is the conventional system in Illinois, according to Don J. Jorde, University of Illinois Agricultural Engineer. "But," Jorde said, "There are presently two trends away from the conventional. One trend is toward confinement and the other toward open-lot systems."

The drylot systems use open sheds and paved lots. Open lot systems use no sheds and most lots are dirt. Weather protection is limited to a windbreak fence and a sunshade. Confinement systems restrain cattle to other open barns with no temperature control or closed, insulated barns with fan ventilation. Most confinement barns are equipped with slatted floors, manure storage pits, and a liquid manure handling system.

"Farmers' reasons for changing to confinement systems include a shortage of bedding materials, less labor, operator comfort and convenience, less space required, and reduction of drainage, odor and stream pollution objections."

Jorde did not advocate any one system as the best system. He pointed out that confinement systems must be planned well and provide adequate ventilation and manure handling.

Duane Erickson, University of Illinois Agricultural Economist, said, "Confinement systems are high cost systems and must be operated on a maximum capacity basis." He said that any considering changes must take a close look at expected labor and bedding savings. The open lot system requires the lowest investment. The others listed in order of increasing investment for comparable size feeding operations are: drylot, cold confinement, and warm confinement systems.

"For example," Erickson pointed out, "The investment cost per head of a highly mechanized drylot system to handle 500 cattle is $114. The per head cost of a warm confinement system handling 400 cattle ranges from $300 to $300, based on case studies."

University of Illinois animal scientist, Terry Greathouse, said, "Don't expect confinement systems with slatted floors to improve cattle performance—that of cattle handled in conventional or in open lot systems—they won't." He cited research results from several states in which feed efficiency will influence their decision," said Greathouse.

Dr. Mansfield, veterinarian at the Dixon Springs Agricultural Center, told the cattle feeders that shipping fever is generally accompanied by some stress factors. As a prevention, he said incoming cattle should be placed in clean, comfortable quarters and be provided with a free-choice light feed, such as a mixture of ground hay, corn and cob meal, and soybean oil meal.

In answer to a question on vaccines to use on cattle coming into a feed lot from several sources, Mansfield said, "Vaccinate against IBR, blackleg, and leptos." He stated that vaccines against shipping fever are still in the testing stage and we do not yet know their value, he advised caution in using BVD vaccine on newly arrived animals. He said the new BVD vaccine can cause troubles when used on stress weakened animals.

Feed Grain Program
Lee Rogers, Madison county ASCS office manager, explained details of the 1967 feed grain program at a recent meeting of Madison county farmers in the Farm Bureau auditorium in Edwardsville.

Major changes from the 1966 program are as follows:

2. For participating farmers, price support payments for 1967 are 30 cents a bushel times the

3. No payment will be made for additional diversion of land above the minimum 20% level.

As a general rule, a farmer must divert 20% of his feed-grain base in order to qualify for price support payments and loans. Exceptions would be farms with feed-grain bases of 25 acres or less, or farms with feed-grain bases of more than 25 acres but desiring voluntarily to reduce the feed-grain base to 25 acres.

Program sign-up runs until March 3. Farmers having questions on the application of the 1967 feed grain program should contact the ASCS office.

Trojans Crush Maroons, 94-80

Madison high school set the stage for its post-season tournament play by walloping Belleville West 94-80 here Friday night for its 22nd victory against only one defeat.

The basketball Trojans trailed the taller Maroons 21-18 after the first quarter but held half-time and third-quarter leads of 43-35 and 65-54 and outdistanced the visitors 28-25 in the final period.

Their aggressiveness earned them 48 rebounds to Belleville's 38, affording eight extra shots at the goal and a 35-33 field goal superiority despite hitting only 49% to the Maroons' 46%.

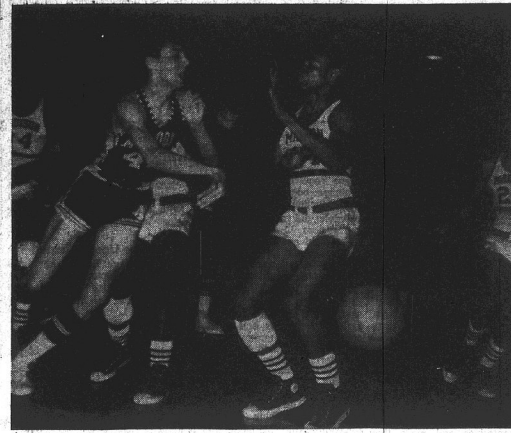

Albert Weston, Burt Lead Comeback, Tom Weston, a junior, snared 11.

Madison committed 18 fouls to Belleville's 19 and sank 24 of 30 free throws for 78%; compared to the visitors' 14 of 27 for 52%.

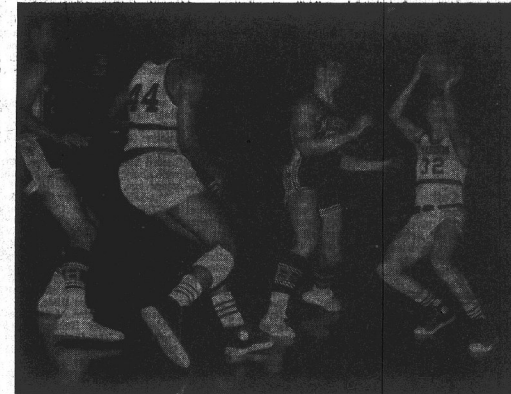

The Trojans were cold in their early shooting but were given a spark in the second period by Weston, who tallied 10 points in first quarter, and Ron Burt, who sank four straight baskets.

Gary Lusk did not hit his first field goal until there was 5:30 left in the third period, but finished fast to total 22. Burt finished with 24, Joe Collins 17, Weston 14, Boyd 11 and Neal Podoba, six.

AGGRESSIVE PLAY on both offense and defense was the hallmark of Madison's success against the Belleville West Maroons here Friday night. Deadline for parents of players or for managers to initiate player transfers is Tuesday, Feb. 28, Park Supt. Harold Brown has pointed out.

Those who have filled out player release forms may have their player-ens assigned to another team by calling the park office, Brown said.

Of the 56 teams registered so far, six are in the atom division; 16, bantam; 15, midjet; 13, juvenile; and three, junior division.

Season opening day is scheduled for Monday, May 15, and the annual baseball parade will be held Saturday, May 20.

Quarterfinal Game for 3 Local Teams Devils Trail But Rally for 71-49 Victory

All three Quad-City high school basketball squads were alive and optimistic as the four-week process of determining the 1967 Illinois state champion moves into its second week.

But only one—and possibly none—will still be in contention when the five-day Edwardsville regional meet ends Friday night.

Standing in the way of the three local quintets at the moment are Alton, Edwardsville and Roxana. But looming even larger is highly-rated Collinsville, which lost for only the second time this season Friday and may now be relaxed enough to be tougher than ever in the tournament competition.

Venice-Alton Twilight

The Kahoks (22-2) should breeze by winless Wood River (0-30) tonight's 7 o'clock opener at Edwardsville high school. A closer contest is anticipated at 8:15 or 8:30 tonight when Alton (15-10) takes the floor against Venice (21-5), champion of its district tourney last week.

Tomorrow, two Midwestern Conference teams collide at 7 p.m., champion Madison (22-1) and Roxana (11-11). In the second game Tuesday, Granite City (14-11) takes on strong Edwardsville (14-8), runnerup to Collinsville in the Southwestern Conference.

No consolation games are scheduled in any of the post-season tournaments, which will continue with the East St. Louis sectional meet next week. In the following week, 16 survivors will clash in super-sectional games and eight will advance to the state tourney at Champaign.

Tonight's winners, probably a Collinsville-Venice or Collinsville-Alton pairing, will play at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Tomorrow's victors, probably Madison-Granite City or Madison-Edwardsville, will collide at 8 p.m. Thursday. A repeat Trojan-Warrior game would draw great interest, since GCHS has been the only team able to outscore Madison this season.

The regional championship will be decided in a game at 8 p.m. Friday at Edwardsville.

Will it be Collinsville and Madison in the finale? This was the case in each of the past two years, with the Kahoks winning. Collinsville has won each year since 1962, when Madison took the regional championship. Granite City last won in 1960, and Madison captured the title in 1959 and 1962.

The Warriors and Kahoks are the only Edwardsville regional contenders who have won the state basketball championship in past years.

GC Cagers End Year By Blasting Knights, 58-45

A pair of 22-point efforts by Jim Hentzel and Terry Moore enabled the Granite City Warriors to down Mater Dei of Breese 58-45 Saturday on the Knights' court. The victory improved the Warriors' season record to 14-11.

While the Knights ended their regular season with a 16-8 log, Granite City spurred to a quick 6-2 lead on two Moore layups.

Moore followed with a jumper from the head of the key and a layup with 10 seconds remaining, giving Granite City the first-quarter lead, 14-8.

Seven Warrior free throws, six by Hentzel, told the story in the second-quarter action as the Warriors outscored Mater Dei 13-11 for a 27-19 lead at intermission.

A meager eight-point output by Mater Dei enabled Granite City to grab a 38-27 lead going into the fourth stanza. The Warriors working Moore at the high post, hit numerous layups, Terry finding the open man underneath the hoop. Hentzel added six points during the period, four via the charity marker.

Moore registered nine points in the fourth quarter, barreling down the middle for four of those. The Knights' Ron Hanke hit on three jumpers during the period as Mater Dei accumulated 14 fourth-quarter points. A Twenty of Granite City's yard came from the free throw line. The Warriors hitting 20 of 24 in field goal percentage, GCHS by Hentzel, told the story in the second-quarter action as the Warriors outscored Mater Dei 13-11 for a 27-19 lead at intermission.

Fuchs 133-Pound Illinois Wrestling Champion

Warrior Team Scores 15 Points; Rock Island 1st

Granite City high school tied for tenth place in Illinois high school state wrestling competition Friday and Saturday at Champaign, with Bill Fuchs bringing home top honors in the 133-pound weight division.

Rock Island won the state team championship with 25 points, edging three schools that tied with 22 points each—Evans, Pekin and Carl Sandburg of Orland Park.

Champaign was fifth with 21 points, Niles East of Skokie scored 18 and Moline 17. Tied for eighth place with 16 points each were two schools, University High of Normal and Park Forest-Rich township East.

The Warriors tallied 15 points, as did Evergreen Park. Granite City had tied for first place in the state two years ago.

Rock Island won this year despite having only two wrestlers who had advanced to the state meet.

"This is the first year that a team with only two qualifiers has won with such a low score," GCHS Coach William Schmitt said. He compared previous scores by Granite City to emphasize the record-low number of points.

Last year, the Warriors placed third with 24 points and in 1967 they scored 41 points without winning.

Close Competition

Going into the 12 two-man bouts, 23 schools were represented. "Any team that had two wrestlers in the finals could have won the championship," Schmitt noted.

A record number of 106 teams throughout Illinois qualified wrestlers for the state meet.

All of the favorites fell by the wayside early, and this was the first state meet since 1950 in which Waukegan has not had a man in the finals. Reavis, another power, did not have a finalist, either," Schmitt said.

Aside from Fuchs, Warrior Ray Hankins (154) was leading the consolation bracket when he suffered a torn cartilage in the chest area. Hankins won his first match 4-1, lost the next 7-1 and was leading in the consolation bout, 4-1, when William Bell of Blue Island kicked Hankins in the chest during an escape attempt.

Hankins was taken to a Champaign hospital for treatment, but returned home with the Warrior contingent Sunday.

Mat Coach William Schmitt said that if Hankins had finished his first consolation match and won, and then won another bout, GCHS might have finished in fourth or fifth place instead of tenth.

Jan Gitcho (112) won his first round bout 5-1 and was defeated in the quarterfinals 6-2. Bruce Illies (145) lost his first encounter 8-2 and lost in a consolation match 6-4.

Jerry Lapinski (138) was pinned at 6:59 in his opening match.

Jubilant Fuchs Family Includes 3 Wrestlers

Tears of joy, accompanied by "ear to ear" grins, engulfed the Granite City contingent when the final seconds of the 103-pound class title match passed with Warrior wrestler Bill Fuchs ahead 8-2.

A year ago, at the state meet, tears were shed also, but not tears of happiness, for Fuchs at 95 pounds finished two points below his opponent for the title to take runnerup honors.

Paradoxically, Fuchs faced the same wrestler, Jim Jackson of Aurora West, who along with the Granite City ace had moved up to the 103-pound weight class in the course of a year.

But that was their only resemblance as Fuchs quickly outwrestled the 1966 champion, gaining a 6-0 lead at the end of the first period.

Adds to Lead
In the third period, Fuchs reversed for two more points and gained one point for riding time.

"The score doesn't tell the whole story. He was better this year than last, and I knew if I let up for a second he would have me," Fuchs commented to the Press-Record in an interview at his home yesterday.

"This was the match I have been starving and training for all year, and I was determined to win," the GC champ said, biting into a cream-filled chocolate, part of a two-pound box given to him as a reward for his championship performance.

Mrs. Betty Fuchs, mother of the state champion, along with Leonard Fuchs Jr., his father, and the Fuchs' other children, Leonard Jr., Cheri and Toni, accompanied Bill to the state meet.

Cheered by Audience
Mrs. Fuchs recalled the crowd of over 2000 joined in a final 10-second countdown of the match and cheered both of the wrestlers afterwards. "You could hear a pin drop throughout the match," she added.

Fuchs held two of his opponents scoreless in preliminary competition. In the first round, he downed Joe Fernandez of Chicago 5-0, and in semifinal competition he beat Ralph Calhoun of Morris 8-0.

In the quarterfinals, he defeated Greg Zudema of Morris 6-3. Jackson was undefeated for two years while Fuchs is 40-4 this year.

Fuchs Sets Records
Fuchs established a new state record by winning 40 straight bouts in an individual season.

He finished his high school career with 108 wins and three losses, 78 of the victories scored on pins.

"His career number of wins, including pins, will be a tough one to duplicate," Coach Schmitt told the Press-Record.

Father, Brother Wrestler
Wrestling dominates in the Fuchs household, according to Mrs. Fuchs. Leonard Sr. wrestled in the 95-pound class at East St. Louis, and Leonard Jr. is destined to follow in his older brother's footsteps.

He is the only seventh grader at Coolidge junior high to advance to the ninth grade team.

Leonard Jr. weighs 82 pounds and is in the 95-pound class.

One daughter, Cheri, 15, could only say that "they don't let girls wrestle." She added that she loved basketball, which she plays in gym class.

The state champion, as of Sunday night, said he was just beginning to feel that it was real and not just a dream.

"At state, the competition is so tough that you can't stop to think about the significance of what it means to win the championship. You have to work each second, not letting yourself be overcome with the bigness of the event."

"Last year, one of the reasons Jackson beat me was that I didn't have the ability to concentrate on what I was doing. The experience you gain at state is very valuable."

Fuchs, who has had many offers from colleges and universities, will enter a body conditioning program to work up to 115 pounds. In the minimum college wrestling weight.

Jim Morrison, Warrior track coach, who also coaches football, reports that the team will be in shape, however, for the season opener, an indoor open meet to be held at the St. Louis Armory Friday, March 3. The meet is being given by the Greater St. Louis High School Association.

While indoors, the running Warriors have been building up endurance and conditioning their bodies with a weightlifting program.

Also, they have been "knee-pumping" up and down in the high school gymnasium.

Outside, they have been jogging, working up to competitive runs. Field men have had to remain at the weight bench and circle practicing form.

Treat for Spectators
Commenting on the track opener, Coach Morrison said, "This indoor meet will help the team get acclimated to competition."

Quad-City Safety Council Advises—

Extra Precautions Necessary for Evening Rush Traffic

More fatal traffic crashes occur during the hours of darkness—especially during the evening rush hours of 5 to 8 p.m.—than during the daylight hours.

"This is a particularly sobering fact for motorists to keep in mind during winter when the hours of daylight are shorter," warns the Quad-City Safety Council.

"Nighttime crashes account for three out of five traffic deaths, and almost half of all pedestrians killed in traffic are struck down between 6 p.m. and midnight," the safety experts noted.

To help motorists drive safely after dark, the Quad-City Safety Council offers the following suggestions:

1. Allow more distance for stop.
2. Keep your speed on your headlights range. Headlights can light up about 350 feet of roadway. At 60 mph it will take you, under average conditions, about 370 feet to stop. Over-drive your headlights and you're in trouble.
3. Keep your windshield and headlights clean. A spotted windshield magnifies the glare of ping your car. With reduced visibility, recognition of traffic signs and the driver's response to them is delayed.

4. Slow down at night. After dark, every driver needs the extra reaction time that slower speeds allow.

5. Base your speed on your headlights range. Headlights can light up about 350 feet of roadway. At 60 mph it will take you, under average conditions, about 370 feet to stop. Over-drive your headlights and you're in trouble.

6. Keep your windshield and headlights clean. A spotted windshield magnifies the glare of incoming headlights, and dirty headlights on your car cut your visibility.

7. Look to the sides of objects rather than straight at them. Focus on the edges or outlines of objects. Eyes are designed to pick up images more sharply that way than by staring head on.

8. Avoid steady driving around your usual bedtime. A driver's alertness level drops sharply about the time he is accustomed to going to bed.

9. Use your lights carefully. Don't drive after dark unless all headlights and signal lights are working. Never drive with parking lights on and dim your lights when approaching another car.

10. Make it easy for others to see you. Signal each time you intend to do something, and signal in plenty of time. Pump the brakes when you slow down to alert drivers in back of you and turn your headlights on at dusk and dawn. If you have a breakdown, switch on all the lights to warn other drivers.

underground primary and secondary distribution lines with pad-mounted transformers.

Payment Eliminated

The rule provided that with the exception of customers with major electrical appliances in the new homes, a charge of $77 per house would be made for installing underground service from the distribution line to the house. Today's rule change removes the money requirement.

In a letter of transmittal, the power company said in part: "Further studies made in connection with the pending proceedings before the commission relating to promotional practices of electric and gas utilities have led to question in our minds as to whether the provisions of Rider Q relating to refunds of contributions in the case of 'mediation' homes are authorized by the Public Utilities Act."

"Therefore, in order to remove any doubt, Illinois Power Co. has revised Rider Q to remove the provisions for such refunds from this rider and at the same time to further liberalize the provisions by removing the requirements for contributions by paragraph 4 of such rider."

Up to 100 Feet of Cable

"The effect of the changes covered in the above filing is that the company will install, without charge, up to 100 feet of underground service cable to any new building in a subdivision with underground distribution."

"Free underground service facilities will also be furnished to new buildings in over-the-distribution areas, provided the applicant contributes the cost of the underground service."

"It is estimated that the additional cost of furnishing underground service connections under the proposed provisions, over the next ten years, is equivalent to a revenue reduction of $248,000 per year."

ONE CHECKMARK on Line 25 of your tax return is all it takes.

It's that simple to get your tax refund in the form of a United States Savings Bond—which you can tack away to be part of a down payment on a home, or the beginning of an educational fund, or a bit of extra security when an emergency comes along.

And, you know, Savings Bonds pay you back $4 for every $3 invested in only seven years, so you'll have the satisfaction of watching your money grow.

What's more, every Bond dollar backs up our men in Vietnam and helps to keep our country strong.

So think it over when you ask for your refund this year. Taking it in Savings Bonds is some of the easiest saving you'll ever do—and the most important for your country.

Bond Facts: Savings Bonds pay you back $4 for every $3 in only seven years ... are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen ... have special tax advantages ... can be redeemed whenever the need arises.

Trash May Become Bigger Problem Than Pollution of Air and Water

(American Chemical Society)

The United States is having a trash explosion at a time when its communities are turning out of dumping space.

The present volume of refuse is 170 million tons a year, or the equivalent in gross tonnage of about 2000 giant nuclear aircraft carriers.

By 1975 the annual total will be 225 million tons. Such a solid waste problem, although less publicized than air and water pollution, will tax the abilities of chemists and engineers more than these two combined.

No Ideal Disposal Method

The chief methods of refuse disposal are dumping, burning and animal feeding, and there are drawbacks to all of them.

For the most part, wastes dumped in sanitary landfills are there to stay, producing a space problem.

Burying or incinerating enables waste to decompose the residue and release harmful chemicals and gases.

Dumping in the ocean releases floating refuse and creates other problems.

The problems for incinerators are economic and administrative ones, and there is a lack of interest by agriculture. Feeding takes care of only some edible wastes.

Re-Use of Material

An important factor in solving the refuse problem is the re-use of waste material. The idea is to reduce the volume of refuse and make it into an economically useful product.

To this end, work will begin this year on the design of a demonstration plant to develop ways to utilize auto scrap. The U. S. Department of Agriculture is also supporting a program to improve the quality of natural animal fertilizer, which presently cannot compete with synthetic fertilizers. Also involved is maximum use of the heat factor in waste disposal. For example, a swimming pool is being designed which would be heated by the burning of trash in an incinerator.

"Land Pollution"

The problem of land pollution is connected to air and water pollution. Incineration, for example, contaminates the atmosphere. And many solid wastes are deposited in rivers and streams.

The government, particularly the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, is concerned with this problem and is making efforts to solve it.

An environmental pollution panel headed by Professor John W. Tukey of Princeton University has suggested in a report to the President a variety of possible solutions—including:

1. Construction of large-scale sanitary landfills and design of special earth-moving equipment.
2. Use of large high-temperature incinerators with electrostatic precipitators to prevent combustion products from entering the atmosphere.
3. Development of containers which will degrade with time instead of lingering unchanged.
4. Utilization of pipelines, railways and highways to transport refuse to mines and quarries.

Income Tax Questions, Answers

Medical Expense Tax Deductions

By Jay G. Philpott
District Director

Q. What can you deduct for medical expense? Is it the full amount of the expense, or just what we have paid for so far?

A. Only the amount you actually paid last year should be used. The basis for the deduction is the medical expenses deduction. Remember to deduct from that total whatever reimbursement, insurance, etc., you received for these expenses.

Medical expenses which exceed 3% of your adjusted gross income will be deductible. However, only medicine and drugs over 1% of your adjusted gross income can be included as a part of these medical expenses.

If you or your wife are 65 or over, these limitations do not apply to either of you for the year 1966.

Q. Our daughter graduated from college last year and has been working for some months. She still lives at home with us. Can we claim her as a dependent?

A. It depends on several factors. To be eligible to claim her as a dependent you must have provided more than half her support for the year.

However, if she earned $600 or more during the year then she must either be under 19 at the end of the year or a full-time student for some part of each of five months for her to still qualify as a dependent.

Wife's Social Security Number

Q. Is my wife's Social Security number required on a joint return? Practically yes, of our income comes from her salary.

A. In some cases your wife's Social Security number would not be required on your joint return. To report this on your return, however, if any of the following conditions are met:

1. She had wages subject to withholding.
2. She had income subject to self-employment tax.
3. She had separate income from dividends or interest of $10 or more.

If any of these conditions apply, a joint return without her Social Security number will hold up the processing of the return. You will then have to be contacted to obtain the missing information. This naturally delays processing and the issuance of any refund you may have coming.

Inheritance Is Not Income

Q. I have inherited $2000 from my father's estate. Will I have to pay taxes on this money?

A. No, inheritances are not taxable income.

Q. I paid up the mortgage on my home early and was charged a pre-payment penalty. Is that deductible?

A. No, the pre-payment penalty interest if you itemize deductions. Q. My husband and I have separated. Who is entitled to claim the children as dependents?

A. The children may be claimed as dependents by the person who provides more than half their support during the taxable year.

War Pension Proposal Explained

(Madison Barracks 34, Veterans of World War I of the U.S.A.)

Passage of H. R. 1069, introduced Jan. 11, 1966, by the Representatives by Congressmen Kenneth J. Gray (D. West Frankfort), is being sought because it would entitle world war I veterans to the same pension benefits as veterans of the Spanish-American war.

The bill also applies to widows and children.

Monthly benefits involved total either $101.50 or $135.45, the latter if the veteran is in need of regular aid and attendance.

To meet the service requirements a veteran must have served in the active military or naval service for 90 days or more during either the Spanish-American war of world war I. To qualify for the disability pension of $135.45, the veteran must have been discharged or released from service because of a service-connected disability.

A smaller monthly stipend would be available for veterans who served less than 90 but more than 70 days. Such a veteran is in need of regular aid, he would receive $86.75 per month, the pension would be $67.75.

In regard to widows and children, the surviving child would be eligible for $75.33 for each child. A widow who was the wife of the veteran during his service would be eligible for a 75% pension. If she was not married to him at the time of his service, the monthly rate would be $65.

The widow must have been married to the veteran before or during the war, or before Dec. 14, 1914, if world war I is involved. Or, for five or more years at any time, or any period of time if a child was born of the marriage.

When there is no widow, a surviving child would be eligible for $73.33 a month. If more than one child survives, an additional $10.00 for each child would be added and the total amount equally divided between the offspring.

Conversion of GI Term Insurance Suggested
If you're one of the 2.4 million world war II veterans receiving dividends this year on your GI term insurance, the Veterans Administration suggests you consider a change to one of the seven kinds of permanent type level premium insurance.

At present, the average premium for a world war II veteran is $10.60 worth of insurance for $9.90 monthly. In 20 years it will jump to $39.70 a month.

In retirement years, it becomes prohibitive for most veterans to pay premiums on term insurance.

For comparison, the premium for $10,000 worth of term insurance is:

Age 60—$307.80 yearly
Age 70—$731.60 yearly
Age 80—Nearly $2000 yearly
Age 85—More than $3000 yearly

Conversion from term insurance to a permanent plan has been a slow and continuing process since world war II.

Each policyholder receives a notice about the modified life plan and other plans on which premiums do not increase with his term renewal notice.

Yet, the conversion number is only a token of what needs to be done, VA Insurance Director H. F. Moore asserts.

Many veterans who get older cannot afford the term insurance, so they let it lapse when they need it most, he commented.

Tri-Cities Directory Now Being Distributed
The 1966 Tri-Cities directory is being delivered to subscribers by R. L. Peck & Co. It lists 27,000 names of adults, 18 and over, in Granite City, Madison, Venice and Mitchell.

The directory includes a history of Granite City, Madison and Venice, classified pages, an alphabetical list of names of residents, a directory of householders and a numerical telephone guide.

The yellow pages catalog 301 different kinds of enterprises from abstractors to wood preservatives. Special features are listings of names of wives and designation of the heads of households.

The householder, or green section, in addition to showing locations of streets and who lives or does business at each number, denotes the homes that are owned by the occupants and the homes that are rented, and lists the telephone numbers.

$50 Reward Offered for Capture of Vandals

Elmer Ebel, safety coordinator for Hoeffken Bros. Construction Co., Belleville, said today his firm is offering a $50 reward for information leading to the apprehension of vandals responsible for considerable damage to equipment and property at construction sites in the Quad-City area.

The supervisor said several acts of vandalism have occurred within the past two or three weeks at the overpass project for State Aid 151 west of Granite City. Damage included many broken windows in the company's office trailers, papers missing, locks on tool trailers smashed and surveyor rods and other items stolen.

Ebel reported that last Wednesday night vandals destroyed seven high-pressure gauges on high-lift equipment parked west of Roosevelt avenue. He added that all gauges had to be replaced at a cost of $50 each. He commented the vandalism is "the worst our firm has experienced in many years."

VIP Kiddie Checks Good For Lollipops at Bank

The American National Bank is teaching youngsters how to write checks.

It is issuing books of "kiddie checks," each of which may be cashed for one lollipop. The checks are authentic in appearance and printed on safety paper. They are furnished in fillers of 12 checks each with instructions on how to write the checks on the inside cover. The checks have a restrictive phrase "Good for one lollipop only" and are signed by the children—more or less legibly.

Now they may draw on the bank's supply of sweets with their own negotiable instruments. It helps teach them money (or lollipop) management.

Bank officials feel that with 90% of all business and personal financial transactions now being carried out by check, an early introduction to them is almost essential.

English Gets 2-4 Years For Aggravated Battery

James Leroy English Jr., 20, of 2137 Robert avenue was sentenced to two to four years in Menard state penitentiary Friday by Circuit Judge James O. Monroe at Edwardsville. He had been found guilty of a charge of aggravated battery in connection with the shooting of a man in a tavern last year. English, along with Harold Ballentine Jr., 24, of 308 Washington avenue, Madison, also received a sentence of five months in the Madison county jail Thursday for drug racing. The two were arrested last Nov. 12 by Granite City police.

Ballentine is now in the county jail, but English was to be taken to the state prison. During a pre-sentence hearing, it was brought out that English was a long arrest record as a juvenile and adult. He and Russell Mahoney, 21, Rural Route One, currently are under indictment on a charge of burglary of the 15 Acres tavern near Mitchell Nov. 25.

A hearing also was under way in Judge Monroe's court on a motion for a new trial for Joseph Ward, former stable man at the Fairmount race track, who was convicted of murdering his wife in 1963 and stuffing her body in the trunk of his auto.

Memoriam to Capt. Causey by Family

Capt. Causey was the navigator aboard a plane that crashed in Tonkin Bay in Vietnam Feb. 25, 1966. A search for Capt. Causey and other crew members was conducted for several weeks. He never was found. The crash occurred during his second tour of duty in Vietnam.

not an arbitrary one governed by fancy, caprice or prejudice, but is a sound discretion, to be exercised according to legal principles and in the light of all existing facts and circumstances."

The hearing on the motion to vacate opened at 10:10 a.m. Friday in courtroom No. 4 on the second floor of the courthouse at Edwardsville with about 20 spectators present.

Few Officials Present

City officials on hand included Mayor Parmley and Aldermen Parmenter, Fry and Robertson. Assistant Supervisor Carl Roach also was present, and Supervisor Nelson Hagmann was in attendance for about 20 minutes.

Before the bench were Atty. Richard Allen and Dick H. Mudge, who had filed the motion to vacate for nine of the aldermen; William Beatty, city attorney, who had filed a motion to intervene for two aldermen; and Paul Pratt of Alton, who had filed the original petition of mandamus for Floyd Miller of Granite City.

Atty. Allen, Beatty and Mudge presented similar arguments that there was no authority in state statutes giving the court authority to call an at-large election.

They agreed the directive for the city to redistrict for seven wards instead of eight was proper and noted the court was lenient in giving the city until Dec. 31, 1968, to do the job.

In arguing the motion to intervene, Beatty said his clients, Aldermen Dallas and Basarich, were not involved in the forthcoming election and had filed the motion "to protect the people of the city."

Scope of Ruling

Beatty said the legality of aldermen elected at-large could be challenged. "The ultimate decision of the mandamus," he said, "will have a tremendous effect on the governmental integrity of the city."

"Without questioning the political wisdom on an at-large election, there is the question of the legality of such an election. "Will the acts of the council be illegal?"

Beatty pointed out the city has many important projects pending including a major sewer program that is to be financed, partially by a federal grant and also by a bond issue.

"The aldermen elected April 4 will be participating in council actions concerning the bond issue which could result in further legal entanglements," he said.

While Beatty, Allen and Mudge contested the court's authority in ordering an at-large vote, saying there was nothing in state laws giving the city the right to do so, Pratt pointed out the court had no other way to go to correct the illegal action of the council in redistricting for seven wards when the city was entitled only to seven—and an amendment for seven wards was proposed to the council.

"Lots of People Happy"

Allen added, "Lots of people are happy about the at-large vote, but perhaps we're not on the right track. If seven aldermen are elected at-large, there will be questions on the legality of any ordinances, the city's appropriation and bond issues. There's no saving clause in the statutes for aldermen elected at-large. This could create serious financial problems for the city over a period of two years."

Mudge emphasized that the mandamus petition had not questioned misapportionment by the city council. "The court does not have power to initiate. The court is confined to the question in the suit."

Answering the attorney, Judge Streeper pointed out an alderman (Parmley) testified at the original hearing that he represented a ward with 20,000 persons. "The city gave that as evidence."

Mudge replied that such testimony "still didn't change the nature of the lawsuit. It was on improper redistricting."

Judge Streeper replied the city had refused to redistrict properly even though an order was ordered for seven wards.

"Such an ordinance was not offered," Mudge stated.

The judge said he recalled it was an amendment, and the amendment for seven wards was voted down by the council.

No Legal Basis?

Mudge then said the mandamus suit filed contained no reference to misapportionment and did not request an at-large election. "It's too late to order redistricting now for this election, but to go one step further and order an at-large election, there's no legal basis to order that kind of relief. The court is confined to the question in the suit."

Judge Streeper replied that an amendment to the mandamus had been requested by Pratt, and an amendment "can be made any time prior to a decision."

Mudge argued that it shouldn't change the nature of the lawsuit. "You can't start out with a suit filed for a traffic accident and end up with a divorce case at the same hearing," he added.

The three protesting lawyers also challenged the timing of the filing of the mandamus petition, pointing out that redistricting must be accomplished at least 60 days before an election.

Judge Rebukes Lawyers
Judge Streeper commented that if briefs submitted by the lawyers had been properly documented, he could have had more data available for his Feb. 9 ruling. "I could have ordered redistricting for seven wards in five days, but I wanted to give the council time to go over its problems."

The Friday hearing lasted until 12:04 p.m. with a 20-minute recess. Judge Streeper then recessed until 2:30, when the hearing resumed and continued for another 30 minutes.

In the afternoon presentations, Lawyer Pratt stated it was with the judicial discretion of the court to order an election at-large. He pointed out that if there is no statutory provision for an election at-large, "it is the function of the court to interpret the statutes."

"Why should there be any provisions," he asked, "if the law complied with the law, there is no reason for an election at-large. You have inherent power. This is your job. There is no need for any section in the law for an election at-large."

"If they don't comply with the law, you can make them do the things that they are required to do."

"On the allegation that the petition is not compatible with the relief granted, the court has the right to grant the relief that it deems advisable to do."

Pratt added that an amendment to the city's redistricting ordinance was offered at the Jan. 16 meeting, calling for seven wards, and that the amendment was subsequently voted down Jan. 23, when the eight-ward redistricting ordinance was adopted.

The statutes involved in mandatory language for proper redistricting. I filed the lawsuit on Jan. 30, within 60 days of the next general election. It is timely in view of provisions of the Civil Practices Act."

Final arguments by Mudge were that the court had the power to order redistricting, but since the complaint did not state the city failed to comply with the one-man one-vote rule of the U. S. Supreme Court, the court had no jurisdiction to order the at-large election.

Mudge Fight Back
"The court cannot become a legislature and write into a law that which the statute does not contain. There is no such constitutional or statutory provision. The suit was not filed on the one-man one-vote principle."

"Compounding one error with another error is not the way to correct the situation," Mudge concluded, asking the court to vacate the section of the order calling for the at-large election.

In his final statement, Mudge said he felt the city had an at-large election, at this late date, "will cause undue confusion and disorder. The statutes provide that redistricting should be completed not less than 60 days before the next general election. The filing of the suit alone does not fulfill this provision. Only redistricting can do it."

Beatty added that legislation has set up the way for ward structures, and that he found no way the petitioners could have wards in said city is void, unconstitutional, and passed by said council in violation of authority conferred upon said city council of respondent city by legislative enactment of the General Assembly of Illinois.

No Alternative Provided

Since redistricting for seven wards could not be accomplished sixty days prior to the election to be held on April 4, 1967, and the law fails to provide an alternative to correct said illegal redistricting within sixty days prior to the election to be held on April 4, 1967 to provide the citizens of respondent, Granite City, Illinois, with equal representation in said city council, the court, therefore, ordered the writ of mandamus to issue requiring said city to redistrict said city into seven wards prior to Dec. 31, 1968, as by law required, and directed the election to be held on April 4, 1967 to be an election at-large—city-wide—to elect seven aldermen from the city at large, to insure the citizens of respondent city the right of equal representation in said city council.

In the case of Reynolds vs. Sims, 377 U.S. 533 the One Man—One Vote mandate for structuring of all state legislatures is laid down. By the same analogy and reasoning this court ordered the election of aldermen on April 4, 1967, the date of the next general city election, to be at large and to elect seven aldermen from said city.

Mandamus is not a writ of right and the granting or refusal of the writ is a matter resting within the discretion of the court. Such discretion, however, is not an arbitrary one governed by fancy, caprice or prejudice, but is a sound discretion, to be exercised according to legal principles and in the light of all existing facts and circumstances.

The motion to vacate the order of Feb. 9, 1967, or in the alternative a portion thereof, is this day denied.

State Urged to Aid Vocational Financing
In conjunction with Gov. Kerner's proclamation of Feb. 25-March 4 period as Illinois Vocational Education Week, Congressman Melvin Price (D, East St. Louis) urged the state to assume full financing of the proposed $3,750,000 vocational educational facility that will be located at East St. Louis and would serve 16 Southwestern Illinois counties.

"To assure the project," Price said, "I would hope the State will be able to agree on providing full funding for the facility since our area would be hard pressed to find matching funds."

Price said Kerner's proclamation in recognition of the first federal vocational education act's 50th anniversary, was an appropriate expression of the state's concern for its citizens' vocational education opportunities. President Woodrow Wilson signed the legislation into law Feb. 25, 1917.

"What could be more fitting on this the golden anniversary of vocational education than to locate a facility in one of the most distressed areas of the State. We pride ourselves on meeting our social responsibilities; let us give concrete demonstration of our commitments by going ahead with the school," Price remarked.

Changing Pace in Industry Calls for Continual Training

The pace of technological change in industry has accelerated to where the industrial employee "can look forward to training on a more or less continuing basis for his entire working career," John R. Hundley, vice president, industrial relations, Granite City Steel Co., told members of the National Management Association meeting in
Saturday at the Chase-Park Plaza
Hotel.
"A substantial proportion of Granite City Steel's 5500 employees," Hundley said, "already participate in training programs."
These include craft training for apprentices, on-the-job training, technical study programs, special classes in such subjects as computer maintenance, management development courses, undergraduate and postgraduate work in colleges under a tuition refund plan and so on.

K. of C.'s to Open Campaign Against Smut

A campaign against "smut on the news stands" will be launched by Tri-Cities Knights of Columbus Council 1089, and other groups will be asked to join.

Robert McCormick, a past grand knight, will be chairman of the committee to open the campaign.

He announced that the K. of C. committees will ask and confer with the state's attorney, the chiefs of police, newspaper editors, radio stations, mothers clubs, PTA groups and ministers in the area.

McCormick said that obscenity threatens to corrupt an entire generation of Americans, that 75% of such material falls into the hands of children, and that obscenity leads to depravity.

The U. S. Supreme Court upheld convictions in three obscenity cases last March 21 in which two defendants were sentenced to terms of five years and three years in the penitentiary, he said.

McCormick said that there are no excuses for pornographers who to business after the court's decision and that any area that decides to rid itself of obscenity can do so by competent enforcement and vigorous prosecution.

Mrs. Strole had resided here with her son-in-law and daughter prior to entering the nursing home. Also surviving are another daughter, Mrs. Clyde (Helen) Garner of Dallas, Tex., and two sons, Faye Strole of Abilene, Tex., and Neil Strole of Newton, Ill.

Illinois Power to Build Plant at Baldwin

Illinois Power Co. will spend $26,000,000 for construction in the coming five-year period. It was announced last week in the utility's annual report.

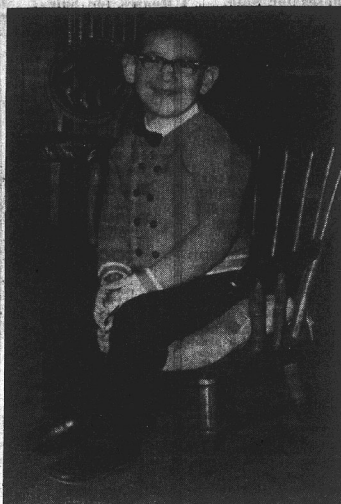

The figure includes the cost of a 565,000 kilowatt generating unit to be installed in a new plant at Baldwin, Ill., several major electric transmission projects, and the installation of natural gas distribution systems in additional communities where service is feasible.

In 1967, the company's construction program calls for expenditures of $47,500,000, up 19% over last year. About $34,700,000 will be required for additions to its electric facilities and $12,800,000 for expansion of its natural gas systems. Gas service will be expanded to 35 additional communities in 1967.

During 1966, the power company's electric revenues were $119,363,000 and gas revenues totaled $55,184,000. Net income for the year was $31,073,266. Earnings per common share were $2.25, an increase of 6%.

EASTER SEAL CHILD for this area is Mark Lallement, four, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lallement, No. 1 Petunia drive.

Drive Starts Thursday

Mark Lallement, 4, Is Area Easter Seal Child

Mark Lallement, four, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lallement, No. 1 Petunia drive, has been selected as this area's Easter Seal child, George Wilkins sr., Madison county Easter Seal campaign chairman, announced.

The boy attends the Granite City Tiny Tim pre-school in one of the educational rooms of the Central Christian Church which was donated by the church for the use of the pre-school.

A door-to-door drive will be held in the community from Thursday through Sunday, Wilkins announced.

Appointed as city chairman were Mrs. Wilkins and Mrs. Ralph Wilson for Granite City, Mrs. Pat Riggs for Madison, Mrs. Ruth Rankin for Venice and Mrs. Pat Polley for Mitchell.

Easter Seal dollars assist children and adults in the county, Wilkins noted.

Services of the Easter Seal Society's treatment centers are speech therapy at the Alton and Venice centers, Tiny Tim Pre-schools at Granite City, Alton and Edwardsville, and occupational therapy on a limited basis at the Granite City and Alton centers.

Fifty children from the ages of five through 15 from the county attended the two-week Easter Seal day camp at Monticello College last June. The society also loans wheel chairs, walkers, relaxation chairs, crutches and other items without charge to aid those who need them. Thirty-seven were aided last year.

Twelve adults and 116 children were served in the speech therapy program at Venice and Alton, and 66 adults and children were in the summer program.

Extended library services will include books for parents and for the professional staff. Plans have been made for a parent-council to assist parents of handicapped children.

Members of the society board of directors include Robert Moske and Mrs. Janet Wilson of Granite City and Francis Datt of Madison. Dr. B. B. Berman of Granite City is a member of the medical advisory committee as is Dr. Wilkins. Mrs. Mary Horn is the pre-school teacher at the Granite City Tiny Tim center.

Use Correct Tax Tables, IRS Urges

Use of the wrong tax table or schedule changed the liability of many Illinois taxpayers last year, Jay G. Philpott, Internal Revenue Service district director for central and southern Illinois, pointed out today.

The problem arises, for instance, when a married couple filing separate returns uses the tax table or schedule for married couples filing jointly in figuring their tax liability. This mistake would give them a lower liability than they actually should have. The result for taxpayers making this mistake is either a lower refund than they expected or a bill for additional tax.

Philpott said a similar mistake could occur when the table or schedules for married couples filing separately are used to figure the tax on a joint return. In that case, the couple would pay more than they should and would get a refund when IRS discovered the error.

To avoid errors of this type, Philpott said, Illinois taxpayers should read the instructions carefully. It is also a good idea to check the return over again before sending it in, he said. Income from all sources, unless specifically exempt by law, is subject to tax and should be reported on the 1966 federal income tax return, Philpott added.

Such items as interest on savings accounts and U. S. savings bonds, tips, most dividends, prizes and profits from hobbies and from the sale of property are considered taxable income and must be reported.

The instruction booklet received with 1966 tax forms lists the items of income that should be included in gross income, Philpott said. Taxpayers who fail to report all their taxable income will be required to pay the additional tax due, plus interest and any applicable penalties.

Heavy Schedule Planned At Park Softball Diamond

The 1967 park district softball season will start one or two weeks earlier this year to accommodate the heavy schedule for Wilson Park softball diamond, according to Park Supt. Harold Brown.

Brown predicted 45 teams will be registered by the time the season opens.

The park district also will sponsor an inter-city wrestling tournament to be held on March 10 and 11 at Coolidge Junior high school.

Authorization has been given for a party commemorating the anniversary of the Girl Scout Brown said. The program will be held by Cadette Girl Scout Troops, District Four at the park district community center on Niedringhaus avenue on March 11.

The fees for 1967 for persons living outside the park district who participate in park district programs will remain at $3, according to Brown. Fees at Wilson Park swimming pool also remain unchanged with adult admission price 75 cents each day, children through high school age, 50 cents, family season tickets $20 per year, adult season tickets $10 per year and children's season tickets $7.50 per year.

Admission charges and fees for use of skating and lockers at the new memorial ice rink, scheduled to open in October, have not yet been fixed.

Barnyard Remedies

JOHN W. ALLEN
Southern Illinois University

Yesterday two students from Southern Illinois University, looking for folklore, came to visit and talk. The conversation, in a kind, wandered over a dozen topics that ranged from the dimly remembered games common on the playgrounds of country schools 70 years ago, through signs, sayings, superstitions and strange beliefs, to finally end on home remedies.

The day was a somewhat raw one so all sat in a cozy but crowded living room and took imaginary whiffs at bullpen, bat ball, old sow, wolf on the ridge, burn out, London Bridge, drop the handkerchief, tag, stink base, one and over, Spanish leap frog, and many another one that has been gone from most school grounds for a good 50 years.

Then a look was taken at whip cracker and sling ditch, favorite though rough boys' games.

Change in Discourse
After a bit more skipping about through superstitions, strange beliefs, signs, and sayings, the conversation turned to home remedies.

An errand into the back yard this morning renewed the interest in home remedies, particularly those wherein plants are used. This turned on seeing several clumps of velvet leaved mullein, a plant once highly regarded for its assigned medicinal virtues.

This plant has a long and interesting record. Pliny, writing about the year 70 A.D., tells of its use in Rome. Since then, seem to have not a beauty parlor to which mildew could be harnessed for hair bleaching and dye, the poured hot water over mullein leaves and secured a liquid that gave her hair an enticing golden glow. This makes one wonder if, even at the far off day, Rome's preferred blondes.

It was also a belief in Rome that soap made from the ashes of burned mullein plants and used to shampoo the hair would restore its natural color. Mullein is reputed to be the herb carried by Ulysses as a protection against the wiles of Circe. In ancient England those who were "fractured" with the use of mullein stalks in talismans to guide them to their graves. In the conversation, European mullein leaves were burned at funerals.

The Old Formula
In southern Illinois and within for several medical purposes. A pint of milk in which about an ounce of dried mullein leaves (4 ounces if green) has been boiled for 10 minutes and then strained through a double thickness of cloth to remove the "velvet," was considered an excellent cough syrup when sweetened with honey. Before a proper treatment for tuberculosis was known, consumptives were given this remedy, sometimes as much as three pints a day. It evidently gave some relief but no cure is recorded.

Blossoms also were gathered and placed in a bottle that was set in direct sunlight for 21 days. The oil that the sun cooked out was kept in a vial as an earache remedy. The writer, as a boy, carried this process out under the direction of his oracle of all things, Mrs. McFadden. Failing to achieve a cure, the remedy remained untried.

Thirty years ago a neighbor woman was smoking dried mullein leaves as an asthma remedy. Once among the most popular of all remedies for literally dozens of ills, does anyone use it today? Finished with mullein, thoughts go wandering to other widely used herbs.

Another herb that also was brought to America and found it a likeable country is garden sage with its lure and superstitions. Two of its superstitions may be noted. One says that if sage grows well the planter will prosper financially. Another tells us that if the bunches are luxuriant the wife rules the household.

State Capitol NEWS

Cholera War News

Five suspected cases of cholera, four of them confirmed, were reported during January according to Robert M. Schneider, director of the Illinois Department of Agriculture. Counties reporting confirmed outbreaks were Henry, Greene, St. Clair and McLean.

In Illinois, all infected herds are disposed of completely. Healthy animals of marketable weight can be salvaged by shipping them, under special conditions, directly to slaughter. The owner is paid indemnity based on the actual meat, feeding or breeding value of the animals destroyed.

Nationally, only 534 confirmed outbreaks of cholera were reported during 1966. This represents a 39% drop from the 881 outbreaks reported in 1965. Twenty-two states had no outbreaks. Illinois' cholera eradication program is under the administration of Dr. Paul B. Dohy, superintendent of the Division of Livestock and Poultry Industry.

Top Young Anglers
Two state fish records were broken by young anglers in 1966. The Illinois Department of Conservation has announced.

An 11-year-old fisherman, Larry L. Smith, Paris, caught a one-pound, 11-ounce readeer sunfish at an Edgar county farm pond. The new record for black bullhead was established on May 22 when Greg Aubrey, a six-year-old angler from Chatham, landed a three-pound, four-ounce bullhead while fishing a Sangamon county farm pond. Both fishermen were awarded a silver pin and a State Record Fish Certificate.

Eight bronze pins and Big Fish

Certificates were awarded to anglers who caught the largest fish in various categories, but those entries did not break state records. A total of 13 anglers submitted entries in the largemouth bass category with the fish weighing from 6 1/2 to 8 1/2 pounds. The biggest eight fish were taken in March or April on deep running lures.

Read Program Bids Listed
Fifty-two projects for construction and related work on the state's 1967 road program have been listed for bids to be received March 3 by the Division of Highways, according to Francis S. Lorenz, director of the Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings.

Value of the work is estimated at $15 million. The letting will be the second of eight scheduled for the year.

Bids for the general work for a new State Police Training Academy, Illinois Department of Public Safety, Springfield, will be received Tuesday, March 14, by the Division of Architecture and Engineering, according to Director Lorenz. Bids for the heating and air conditioning, plumbing, ventilating, pipe covering and electrical work and food service equipment will be received Tuesday, March 7.

Assistant Director Named
Melvin K. Hoffmann, chief of special projects for the Illinois Department of Public Safety, has been named assistant director and business manager by Ralph G. Newman, commission chairman.

Hoffmann was director of concessions at the Illinois "Land of Lincoln" Pavilion at the New York World's Fair in 1964-65. He has owned and operated drive-in restaurants in the Chicago area and was instrumental in the design of the Visitor Service and Concession Area at San Salem State Park.

Rep. Paul J. Randolph (R) of the 12th District in the Illinois General Assembly, has been appointed a member of the commission by Speaker Ralph Smith. Randolph served as a member of the Illinois New York World's Fair Commission under New-York Governor Rockefeller. The Illinois Division of Oil and Gas issued 192 permits during January, Director L. L. Ruff of the Department of Mines and Minerals, has reported.

There were 111 oil well permits and 81 other permits, compared with 133 oil well permits and 89 other permits during January 1966. Permits were classified as follows: pool—80, wildcat—22, water-input—39, salt water disposal—14, structure test—5, water supply—3, gas input—9.

icine. It was prescribed for about every ailment from agues to tonics. One herbalist states that one who drinks sage tea will never show the ill effects of age.

It is remembered when women washed their hair in sage to keep it from turning gray, even to restore its natural color. An English rhyme says:

"If he would live in the month of May."
Once used for many purposes, about the only current use is to flavor sausages and dressing.

Malaria and Chills
In childhood days malaria and chills were rife. The common remedy was quinine. The quinine given then in powder form, was much better. To overcome the bitter taste, slippery elm was used. The inner bark of the slippery elm was split into strips an inch or so wide and about five inches long. Shod in a glass of water the immersed ends shortly became covered with a mucilaginous coating.

This was stripped into a tablespoon, and the desired quantity of quinine was placed in the middle. The mucilaginous substance was folded over the quinine. All slipped down easily with no taste. Then along came gelatine capsules and sugar coated pills. Today few recognize ulmus fulva.

Then there was yellow puccoon root for thrush, pink root for worms, pennyroyal for upset stomachs, sassafras tea to thin the thick blood of winter, cherry bark for hiccups, and whet hazel for most everything. A hundred more "cures" could be added.
